Grand Commander's office,
Fredericksburg, Va., June 17, 1895.
Special Order, No. 1
A vacancy having occurred in the office of Grand Recorder of this grand body by the death of Right Eminent Sir William Bryan Isaacs.
Be it known, that by powers vested in me as Grand Commander, I do hereby appoint Sir William Bryan Isaacs. Jr., Grand Recorder of the Grand Commandcry of Virginia, to fill the unexpired term.

Colonel J. T. Fitzgerald, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Virginia, arrived in the city yesterday from his home in Farmylie. His visit on this occasion is of unusual interest because he is expected to announce the successor to the late Grand Secretary William B. Issaes, of which he has the appointment.

Colonel Fitzgerald said last evening that he had not made up his mind who he would name, and that on account of the excellent material so choose from he found it very difficult to reach a determination. He said, however, that he would make the appointment before he left the city. Only those who are past master Masons are eligible to the position.

GENERAL WISE NOT A CANDIDATE.

To the Editor of The Times:
Sir, In your issue of this morning I find my name mentioned among those which are considered in connection with the office of Chief-of-Police, now, unfortunately, to be filled.

The office is alike honorable, dismified, and useful. The present police force, it would be an honor to command in the city which I dearly love. But leither my tastes nor modes of thought nor rembitions point in this direction, and I deem it proper to say that I would not accept the office if tendered to me. The only interest which I feel in results in this connection is to see a successor to Major Poe, in whose case, as in his contact with crime will confirm his quality of gentleman, temptation will only accentuate his determination to remain without stain, and the constant presence of abortious duty will surely increase his disposition and ability to do it.

The one pleasure which I feel in writing this lotter, in the presence of the death which has come to us, is in the capertualty of paying a just tribute to John Poe, even before he is buried.

Very respectfully.

CONVICTS RECAPIURED.

Three of the Five Who Escaped Returned

Three of the five convicts who escaped from the State farm, in Goodhland county, last Saturday have been captured ty, hast Saturday have been captured, and it is believed the other two will soon be returned to the penitentiary. Patrick Green, one of the rubaways, was caught in Hanover, and returned Sunday afternoon. Butler Devine, another of the fugitives, was captured near Howardsville, and returned to the penitentiary last wight.

and returned to the pententiary assinght.

The convicts displayed a good deal of threwdness in making their escape, A gang of fifteen, under one guard, were taken acress the river to work in a leasted field, and upon sorting out of the boat they strung themselves out alting the river bank, and two slipped avay.

The other three who took French leave were even more ready. A ditch was being dug on the farm, and some blasting had to be done. When the fuse was set of the main were allowed to run away to points of safety. The three ran faster and firther than the others and made their way through the woods.

For a Garden Party,

The Ladies' German American Association of the Virginia Hospital held a meeting Tuesday afternoon, in the lecture-room of the college, to formulate plans for a garden party to be given July lith, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the furnishing of the German wards in the hospital. There was a large attendance, and the meeting was presided over by Mrs. William Rehing.

It was announced that Mr. Von Rosenegk had generously placed his handsome residence, on the Cary-street road, at the disposal of the ladies for the occasion; that Mr. Mitteldorfer had offered to furnish all decorations free of charge, and that Messors. Heppert, Ahmrein, and Selvert had tendered their services for the carpentering work. An aluminance of provisions and retreshments were promised by different ladies of the association.

been previously informed of the nature of the visit, and after making the necessary arrangements the couple were escorted to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. K.
Gracme, where the ceremony was performed by Dr. J. D. Wilson. Mr. and Mrs. Minter returned to Richmond Tuesday.

Information was received in this city Tuesday of the marriage of Mr. J. E. Terry, of this city, and Miss Bessie Loch-land of Waco, Texas, at that place, on April 24th. The couple will visit Rich-mond in September.

It was unfortunate that a typographical error in The Times yesterday morning made it appear that Mr. J. Jacobus' sub-scription to the German ward of the Virginia Hospital was only 25 cents. Mr. Jacobus gave a much more generous amount than that sum, for the item should have been $2.

Mr. Dixon spoke until nearly 12 o'clock, his remarks being listened to with prodound attention. He was followed by Mrs. Morrow, who spoke interestingly on the fruits of the Spirit.

At the afternoon service Mr. J. W.
Dean, the Quaker evangelist, spoke impressively upon what the Word of God does for us. Mr. Dean is an earnest and an interesting speaker, and he held his audience in deep attention.

FOR HONEST ELECTIONS.

The Populist Executive Committee Want a

Non-Partisan Convention.

There was a full meeting of the Executive Committee of the Populist party here Friday night. They decided to call a convention in the interest of honest elections as soon as the representatives of the other parties can be communicated with.

the other parties can be communicated with.

The following were the members of the committee present at this conference: Chairman J. Haskins Hobson, Captain Edmun' R. Cocke, Walter Grant, John B. Watkins, H. A. Miller, and Dr. Bass.

J. Haskins Hobson, chairman of the party, said yesterday that they believe no honest election law can be obtained as long as it is dependent upon the men elected by the present law. They therefore propose that the advocates of honest elections throw aside all party ambitions and put up tickets of incorruptible men without regard to politics, and that the only pledge that will be exacted of candidates is that they will advocate honest elections and not use their influence in any partisan way to upbuild any particular party. Mr. Hobson said he would prefer that the convention have a majority of Democrats, as they would stand a better show then of accomplishing their alms. Mr. Hobson says that he or his party will not take an over-prominent part in the move, and that should the convention or caucus take a partisan turn, he would at ence withdray from the movement. He says that as long as the present election laws exist the question of party plans or platform are a small consideration, and until the control of elections is taken out of the hands of machine politicians, the will of the people will never be carried uot. Their plan, as announced by Mr. Hobson, is to get all the men of prominence in the State, who favor honest elections, together, without respect to political associations, and deal with this great question of the hour; to formulate a plan of campaign to secure honest election laws, and to conduct the canvass on that line, selecting the best men in each county, whether they be Republican, Democrat, or Populist; and have no other political platform than this one great idea. He thinks nothing short of a political revolution in the State will secure honest elections in Virginia. The convention will perobably be called in Richmond some time in July. MISS HATCHER A BRIDE.

Dr. W. E. Hatcher, father of the bride.

The welding was a brilliant event, and was especially unique in point of ceremony.

THE BRITAL PARTY ENTERS.

The bridal procession entered the church headed by the bridesmaids, who were attired in pink organile, trimmed in Valencine insertion, and wearing large Leghorn hats profusely trimmed with varicolored froses, and white slippers and gloves. Each carried a large bunch of maiden-hair ferns. The maids were followed by the attendants, who were dressed in white organile, trimmed in pink ribbon, and wearing sailor hats, white slippers and gloves. They carried white parasois. Miss Orie L. Hatcher, the bride's sister, and Mr. James T. Carter of Lynchburg, followed, as maid of honor and best man. Miss Hatcher wore a very becoming dress of white China silk, a large white hat, and shippers and gloves to match. She carried a bunch of roses The bride and groom followed. The bride looked very handsome in white silk repetrimmed in real lace, and white ribbon and white hat, trimmed in white roses and violets. Mr. William B. Isaacs, Jr., was on yes-terday appointed grand recorder of the Knights Templar of Virginia, to succeed his late lamented father. Mr. Isaacs, upon the reception of the official order of Grand Commander J. P. Corbin, which follows, entered at once upon the dis-charge of his duties. It will be recalled that Mr. Isaacs was recently appointed Grand Recorder of the National Com-mandery of Knights Templar. The official order follows:

"OYER, COME INTO COURT"

WILL PARKER, THE GOLD-BRICE MAN, HEAR THIS TO-DAY?

There are Many Who Believe That Sheriff So omen's Trumpet Tongue Will Not Reach Him When He Calls.

This morning at II o'clock the case of Parker alias Smith will come up in the Henrico County Court. The gold-brick fakir will be called to answer the charge of swindling Mr. A. W. Wilners of to $5.000 of his hard-carned money.

The question of all importance is, Will Parker be here? No one seems to think that he will show up. If he should stand his trial and be convicted, he would most likely get only a year or so in the penitentiary, but it is not at all probable that Parker would relish this continement, consequently it is not exfinement, consequently it is not ex-pected that he will answer to his name when the case is called.

A pretty welding took place yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, at No. 117 north Lombardy street, when Mr. E. Sheppe, of Reidsville, North Carolina, was married to Miss Elizabeth Williams, The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. Young. Mr. and Mrs. Sheppe left for a southern tour after the ceremony. They will reside in Reidsville, where the groom holds the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction. The bride is a daughter of Mr. R. D. Williams, an insurance man of this city.
